WWW.RDFGROUP.COM

Why RDF ?

RDF has been delivering strategic resourcing solutions for over 13 years. We are highly experienced in researching specialist skills sets across the full range of IT disciplines. We source highly professional permanent and contract staff for major financial institutions in the UK and Europe.

RDF use technical resources from our software development teams to qualify vacancies and pre-screen candidates to ensure the best technical match possible for our clients' requirements. As a result our customers do not have the overhead associated with reading through inappropriate CV's and interviewing technically unsuitable candidates. Our technical team can also work with hiring managers in the preparation of job descriptions and scoping of roles.

We consistently keep ourselves up to date with regulations, compliance and developments within the sector and adapt our working practices accordingly. We are also members of a number of bodies representing the Card Payments Industry and PrePaid sector.

We have considerable experience in recruiting teams of skilled resources from overseas and managing the issues surrounding work permit sponsorship, relocation and establishing residence in the UK. We have run successful marketing campaigns in Australia and South Africa attracting candidates where there has been a skills shortage in the UK.
